A SEALING HUI TO BE FORMED

Stay of Geneva Here Responsible For Move.

A LOT OF MONEY IN BUSINESS IN SOUTH

MONEY FOR ENTERPRISE IS BEING RAISED—HALF ALREADY PROMISED—CLUNEY A BACKER.

The schooner Geneva, which put in here in distress, will leave for the Sound in about ten days, where she will be repaired. She will have new topsides and rigging put in at an expense of about $4,000.

The presence of the sealing schooner in this port has led to more or less inquiry as to the sealing business and on information gained, it is not improbable that a hui will be formed here to back a venture having for its object the catching of seals in the South.

The profits of the sealing business are very large and with seal-skins netting $15 each it does not take many to make a profitable year. The schooners and outfits are valued at from four to ten thousand dollars and the profits in the business for each schooner engaged is all the way from forty to two hundred per cent. on the investment.

The catch of the sealers off the Horn this year has been a very large one and this is a new field which has not been exploited and which is good for five or six years.

An instance of the money in sealing is that of Captain Grant, the owner of the Geneva, now here. He bought a little schooner for $2,500, and from her, in nine years, made ninety thousand dollars. This seems a very large profit but it is said that it is not remarkable.

Under the treaty between the United States and Great Britain, Americans cannot go seal hunting, so the traffic has been controlled since the treaty, by the Victorians, who operate the sealing fleet.

It is the proposition here to put up the money and purchase a new schooner, to be under the British flag, of course, and go to Cape Horn to hunt. About ten or eleven thousand dollars are needed and about the only chance of getting it is the loss of the vessel.

Captain J. C. Clune is one of those interested in the formation of the hui here and already more than half the money needed has been promised.

THE TRAMWAYS LIQUIDATOR

Mr. Waterhouse, of the firm of Price, Waterhouse & Co., London, is the man selected as liquidator to carry to completion the consolidation deal between the Rapid Transit and Hawaiian Tramways company. Price, Waterhouse & Co. is a well known London firm of chartered accountants. Mr. Waterhouse is expected to arrive within a few weeks to carry out his work.

DOINGS OF THE HOUSE

Two of the sick members of the House of Representatives—Messrs. Aylett and Kumalae—turned up at the forenoon session today, both huddled up to keep out the air.

Four members occupied the chair today—the regular Speaker, Mr. Beckley; the Vice Speaker, Mr. Knudsen; Mr. Vida, and Mr. Harris. Mr. Beckley is getting the members in training for possible contingencies.

The report of the County Bill Committee did not turn up today as was anticipated by a great number of people. The committee will continue its work this afternoon.

There was a rumor around the House today that the township bills of Mr. Paele, providing for the towns of Laleikawai and others with names as municipal, will not be brought up at the present session of the Legislature, although the member has already given notice that he would introduce the same.

John Wise still holds the fort as Sergeant-at-Arms in the place of Kalo, who is quite ill. The messenger, Mr. Moloi, is feeling a little under the weather himself.

While Mr. Vida was in the chair today he received several complimentary messages from people whose names he is now trying to ferret out.

WALDORES POPULAR

The Waldorf Company played to a crowded house in the Orpheum last evening. "A Royal Divorce" was given with a perfection in all the parts which shows the company to well deserve the patronage of audiences that appreciate first class drama. The enthusiasm of the audience told its own story of how well the company is gaining favor in the city.

"Sweet Nell of Old Drury" is the play for this evening and another good house is anticipated from the advance sale.

Tonight the romantic and historical comedy "Sweet Nell of Old Drury" will be repeated by the Waldorf Co. at the Orpheum theatre. On its first presentation Miss Waldorf's Nell Gwynne charmed her audience and play lovers will doubtless welcome the opportunity of seeing her again in this attractive role. Seats are on sale at the Orpheum today.

CHINAMAN STRIKES BOY.

See Long, a Chinese storekeeper at Palama, was fined $29 in the Police Court this morning for assault and battery on Charlie Kamaka, a little Hawaiian boy whom he claimed had annoyed him. The Chinaman stated that the boy pounded on his store with rocks and that he had chased but did not strike him. Witnesses testified that See Long had struck the child over the head with a billet of wood, knocking him senseless. The Court believed the boy's story and fined the Chinaman accordingly.

HEAVY PENALTY.

Customs Inspector Neal, who discovered the smuggled goods in Umlichel Dol's trunk, swore to a complaint, charging the Jap with smuggling today. The maximum penalty for the offence is two years in prison and $5,000 fine or both, in the discretion of the Court.

A Swedish sculptor has solved the problem of casting statues in one piece.

Hackmen's License Bill Discussed In the House; Hilo Railway Petition

SENATE.

Thirtieth Day.

The House again sent up its concurrent resolution for a conference committee of seven members from each branch, and having President Beckley's signature this time, was considered.

Senator Cecil Brown said the resolution should state the purpose for which the conference was wished. He agreed with Senator Paris that it was a little previous.

Senator Baldwin moved to postpone consideration of the resolution until more information was obtained.

President Crabbe suggested that there were differences between the County Bill in the Senate and the same measure in the House. There was also a difference in the Appropriation bill between the two houses.

"Let them wait till they get our County Bill," Senator C. Brown replied.

The motion was carried.

Hawaiian Language.

A joint resolution from the House was read, to request the Congress of the United States to amend the Organic Act so as to permit the use of the Hawaiian language in the Legislature.

Senator Cecil Brown asked if the object was that all proceedings be conducted in the Hawaiian language. There was nothing now to prevent their using the Hawaiian language and they were doing it every day. To send that resolution to Washington would be like pouring water on a duck's back.

Senator Dickey could agree with what had been said about the absence of restriction, but this matter was one of the planks in the Republican party platform at last election. He read the plank and moved the resolution pass.

This was seconded by Senator Kalanokalani and carried with 11 votes for and none against.

Against Franchise.

Senator Paris presented a long petition, signed by 52 citizens of Hilo, praying that the franchise for an electric railway from Hilo to Hakalau pending in the Legislature be not granted beyond the streets of Hilo. It was represented that if an electric railway were allowed to run into the country the Hilo & Kohala railway enterprise would be strangled.

Senator Dickey, in the chair, referred it to the Public Lands Committee.

Senator Baldwin presented a petition from residents of Paia, Maui, that the school system be not changed. Laid on the table to be considered with the County Bill.

Fire Claim.

Senator Dickey presented a petition from Mrs. T. K. Amaki for an appropriation of $1200 to reimburse her for a house destroyed in the plague fires. She gave a long account of circumstances that prevented the claim from being adjudicated by the Fire Claims Commission.

Senator C. Brown, on a motion to refer the petition to the Judiciary Committee, said that so far as he was concerned the Judiciary Committee would report on it right then. Senator Achi—"So am I." To grant the petition would establish a very dangerous precedent.

Senator Dickey called the speaker to order. It was contrary to the rules to HOUSE.

Thirtieth Day.

A communication from the Senate announced the passage in third reading of Senate Bills 97, 102 and 108. No. 97, relating to the repeal of census laws passed first reading. When it came to a consideration of Bill 102, Mr. Paele moved to lay on the table and went into a discussion of the bill before it had been read. Mr. Kellinor arose to a point of order to the effect that Mr. Paele was talking on something which was not yet the property of the House. The point of order was sustained and Mr. Nakaleka moved to pass the bill in second reading. Mr. Kaniho arose to second the motion of Mr. Paele, saying that a bill from the Senate had been rejected the other day, without having been read. Mr. Chillingworth arose to a point of order to the effect that Mr. Kaniho's remarks were not germane to the subject. The point of order was sustained and the motion to pass the bill on first reading having been put, carried. Senate Bill 108 passed second reading.

Speaker Asks About Bills.

Speaker Beckley wanted to know about Bills 21 and 29 of the House. One-half of the session had already passed by. The bills had been in the hands of the committee for fifteen days when five days was the limit of time for any committee unless an extension of time was granted by the House. Mr. Kellinor, chairman of Committee on Agriculture and Manufactures, said the committee would soon be able to report. The Chair ordered the committee to meet tonight and to hand in their report tomorrow. The committee has been waiting to secure the figures and explanations from the people concerned and will be ready to report as soon as these are received. The two bills relate to the proposed franchises for the Oahu and Hawaiian Electric Co.

Mr. Aylett wanted to know what had become of House Bill 7, an Act to repeal Chapter 71 of the Session Laws of the year 1898, relating to segregation of lepers, being sections 296, 297 and 298, Part I, Chapter 62, of the Penal Laws as compiled by S. M. Hallon in the year 1897. This was the thirtieth day of the session.

Mr. Chillingworth said it was impossible for the Public Health Commission to report on bills when there was hardly a day that members were not piling up resolutions on that committee. The Speaker ordered the committee to meet tonight and report to-day.

Hack Bill Taken Up.

The House Bill (No. 28) relative to vehicles and drivers, and the licensing of the same, was taken up in second reading, section by section.

Mr. Kumalae objected to the section providing for the examination of hack drivers by the High Sheriff and two licensed hack drivers. In some cases, prejudice might mark the decision of the two hack-driving members of the board. In that case, the rights of the other drivers might be trampled on. Hackmen should not be allowed on the board.

Mr. Aylett spoke of the incompetence of the Japanese and Chinese (Continued on Page 8.)

Order of the Day.

The bill repealing the law relating to desertion of married persons passed third reading.

The bill amending the law relating to industrial and reformatory schools passed third reading.

The bill relating to waiver of trial by jury in criminal cases passed third reading.

The bill relating to jurisdiction of district magistrates passed third reading.

The bill relating to the giving of notice by publication passed third reading.

Recess from 12 to 2 o'clock.

COUNTY BILL REPORT

It is very probable that the report on the County Bill will be presented by the House special committee tomorrow forenoon. The last consideration of the recommendations will be this afternoon and if there are no hitches, the House will hear from the committee at the time mentioned. One of the members of the committee said today that in all likelihood the report of the committee would deal only with recommendations and that there would be no comments. There would be comparatively few changes made as the committee has decided that the course of the Senate is the best after all if there is to be passage of the bill at the present session—that of swallowing the bill with but a few minor changes. The committee has worked along in a very harmonious manner and the report will very probably be unanimous.

TOM AND LOEALANI AIR THEIR TROUBLES

Tom Davis and his wife, Loealani, were in the Police Court this morning—one as a defendant and the other as prosecuting witness. Yesterday, Loealani, who has been married to Tom sixteen years, had him arrested for threatening to kill her. Tom is an old man and confessed to having seen sixty-two winters and summers. Loealani is many years his junior and a buxom lass. She claimed that Tom's life had been a continual summer since she had known him. She claimed that Tom had been bad to her and treated her meanly for many years and that she could not love him longer, especially as she was afraid he would put his threat into operation.

Tom stated that he had been drunk when he made the threats but that he had nothing but love in his heart for Loealani, who had been a good wife to him although at times she growled at him, making him angry.

Both stories being told, Judge Wilcox advised the couple to go home and try to live happily. "It takes two to make a fight," said the Court. "When your wife comes after you, go out in the yard and chop wood. Don't pay any attention to her. If she still keeps growling take a walk around the block. She will be calmed down when you get back. It is the way of women."

Tom acknowledged the wisdom of the Court's remarks and was willing to "kiss and make up" but Loealani did not agree with the court and while she did not want Tom sent to prison, she refused to go home with him.
